4 Americans Freed By Reds Take Off For Hawaii Today

By FORREST EDWARDS
AND DAVID J. ROADS

HONG KONG (AP)—Four American fliers released by Communist China after more than two years imprisonment reached Hong Kong today. Less than three hours later they took off for Hawaii and reunion with their families.

The men, who had been shot down in the Korean War, appeared tired but in good, if subdued, spirits. They told newsmen at the airport that they had been "well treated."

U.S. Lt. Col. O. W. D. Simpson, who greeted the men at the Communist border, said their mental attitude "was extremely composed and they gave no evidence of being brainwashed."

"Terribly Glad"

The four, all fighter pilots, are Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., 28, Swea City, Iowa; 1st Lt. Lyle W. Cameron, Lincoln, Neb.; 1st Col. Edwin Heller, 36, Wynnewood, Pa.; and 1st Lt. Roland W. Parks, 24, Omaha.

"We are all terribly glad and happy to be free," Cameron said to newsmen. "What more can we say?"

"Tell our folks hello!" the fliers chorused.

The four men arrived just after noon by train from Canton at the border village of Shumchun. They crossed the frontier into British territory at 2:33 p.m. Less than three hours later, at 5:20 p.m., the special Air Force transport took off with them.

Take Relatives To Hawaii

The Air Force said in Washington that the men would be given a complete physical checkup in Hawaii. Secretary of the Air Force Talbot announced that a special plane would fly their closest relatives to Hawaii for a reunion.

Plans for this flight were expected to be announced in Washington later today.

Although newsmen were not permitted to question the four, they said at the airport they were first told last week that they were going to be sent home.

QUIGLEY URGES DAY TO HONOR DISABLED VETS

Congressman James M. Quigley urged establishment of a special day honoring "those still suffering from wounds received in service, particularly the paraplegics, the amputees and the mentally ill" in a Memorial Day address Monday evening at New Oxford.

Observing, "Those men and their families have paid and are paying an even higher price than those who met death on the battlefield," the congressman held, "America can be proud that it was the first nation of the world to set aside a day on which to pay tribute to those who died in defense of their country. It is not fitting, however, that we should remember only those who died and at the same time forget those still suffering."

"It is true," he added, "that in indirect ways, such as the sale of poppies, these, our living dead, are remembered on this day. It is also true that throughout the year our veterans organizations and their auxiliaries do a grand job of easing the burden of our hospitalized veterans. But, sad to note, by and large this nation does a pretty thorough job of forgetting those veterans who were unable to march home from the wars. This forgetfulness is not to our credit as a people."

Got Legion Backing

"It is my hope that the day will come when this nation will have a day set apart to memorialize and pay tribute to our disabled veterans. I visualize that on this day good men and women, led by their former comrades in arms and fellow veterans, will flock to the various veter- (Continued On Page 7)

BACCALAUREATE THIS AFTERNOON AT THE MOUNT

Baccalaureate services held this afternoon in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception for the 75 members of the graduating class at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

In the opening activity of the 14th annual commencement the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph Schmidt, V.F.W. P.A. pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Carlisle, the baccalaureate speaker, deplored the chaotic condition of the world which faces the graduates and attributed the disturbed conditions to the fact that men had forgotten God and the commandments.

"Ours is a disturbed generation," he said, "wanting the peace that men crave, the peace that God would have among his children.

"And the reason for it all is that this our age is far from the will of God. Even in our country of America, I might say especially in our country, these things are evident. We have not felt the awful suffering that others in the world have felt: hunger, being deprived of our homes and the means to live, driven here (Continued On Page 9)

C. A. WILLS AND GEORGE I. ELY JR. HURT IN CRASH

George I. Ely Jr., 23, Gettysburg R. 2, suffered a fracture of the left shoulder, a possible fracture of the skull and multiple abrasions at 8:15 o'clock this morning when the tractor he was driving collided with an auto operated by Clarence A. Wills, Fairfield.

State police said Ely was driving his farm tractor east on the Fairfield Rd., two miles west of here, when Wills, also headed east, attempted to pass the tractor.

As Wills began to pass, police said, Ely turned to enter a private drive. The right front of the Wills car struck the left rear wheel of the Ely tractor.

Ely was thrown from the tractor to the road and the Wills car and tractor continued down an embankment.

Wills, president of the Gettysburg National Bank, suffered a minor contusion of the chest and an abrasion of the left knee but did not immediately seek medical attention.

364 Memorial Day Traffic Deaths In U. S.; New High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic deaths for the Memorial Day weekend reached a record high.

With reports still to come, the total reached 364 today, one over the all-time high set in 1952 for a three-day Memorial weekend.

The rising tide of traffic fatalities passed the estimate of 360 made before the holiday by the National Safety Council. The council revised its estimate to "at least 375."

One hundred twenty-five drownings swelled the country's overall total of accident fatalities during the 78-hour period. Counting 83 miscellaneous accident deaths, the overall figure was 572—just a few short of the high mark for a four-day Memorial Day holiday recorded in 1950.

President Eisenhower Is First Chief Executive To Attend Memorial Day Exercises In National Cemetery In 21 Years; Marshal Winebrenner Is Injured When Knocked From Horse

Gettysburg's annual Memorial Day parade got underway only a few minutes late Monday afternoon despite the fact that its chief marshal, LeRoy H. Winebrenner, lay unconscious in the Warner Hospital after being struck by a truck 45 minutes before parade time as he was riding along Buford Ave. to the assembly point.

Arthur W. Warman, an aide, took over after he learned shortly after 2 o'clock of Winebrenner's accident and led the column to the National Cemetery.

Winebrenner was knocked unconscious from his horse and his favorite mount, "General Meade," was mortally injured when they were struck by a truck loaded with pulpwood near the Tasty-freez stand on Buford Ave.

Struck On Head

Winebrenner and LeRoy E. LeVan, Gettysburg R. 1, one of his aides, were riding east on Buford Ave. coming from Winebrenner's farm to the parade assembly area at Meade School when the pulpwood truck, driven by 16-year-old John C. Rosenberry, Star Route, Fannettsburg, came up back of the horsemen.

LeVan told The Gettysburg Times he looked back, saw the truck, called a warning to Mr. Winebrenner as the truck was upon them. He said a protruding piece of pulpwood caught Winebrenner on the back of his head and knocked him unconscious to the street while the front corner of the truck body struck Winebrenner's horse at the base of his spine and knocked the horse to the roadway.

LeVan said another driver stopped the truck in the next block and when Rosenberry returned to the scene he told LeVan Winebrenner's horse had shied into the path of the truck. LeVan contradicted him on that point and then quoted the boy as saying an oncoming car had prevented him from swinging wider.

Borough Police Investigating

Borough Policemen Daniel Miller and Chief of Police Jack Bartlett are conducting an investigation. They said this morning they expect to question LeVan and Winebrenner and quoted the Rosenberry youth as saying the Winebrenner horse had shied and swung his rump into the path of the truck.

After the mishap, the ambulance was called and Mr. Winebrenner was rushed to the Warner Hospital where he regained consciousness and sent word that Dr. James Martin, a veterinarian who was serving as an aide to Winebrenner and came upon the scene a few minutes after the accident, should decide on dis- (Continued On Page 2)

Stassen Stops At Minnesota Monument

Gettysburg's Memorial Day speaker, Harold E. Stassen, gave the local committee a few moments of nervousness, when he arrived later than expected at Lincoln Square here, but still in time for the services.

In 15 minutes the Minnesota regiment lost 83 per cent of its men. All were wounded or killed, not a man was captured by the Confederates.

The speaker and Mrs. Stassen walked about the monument and read the inscription on it before continuing to the Hotel Gettysburg.

Hanover Florist Supplies Flowers

For the fifteenth year Cremer's, the Hanover florist, donated the flowers for the grave decorations. They included: 1,200 carnations; 2,554 roses; 4,200 snapdragons; 100 bunches of peonies and 718 bunches of greens. Mrs. Grace Ziegler Cremer, member of the firm, said: "This was the most impressive sight I have ever seen, and incidentally, it is the first time I have ever seen it," when speaking of the strewing of flowers on the graves.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was the first President of the United States to attend Memorial Day exercises in the Gettysburg National Cemetery in 21 years.

On Wednesday, May 30, 1934, the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, elected president in November, 1932, to succeed Herbert Hoover, delivered the Memorial Day address in the sacred burial plot here. Not since that day has a President visited the National Cemetery here.

Monday afternoon President and Mrs. Eisenhower and the latter's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, drove from the Eisenhower farm to the National Cemetery. They traveled a "back-roads" route entering the cemetery from the Taneytown Road.

Mrs. Doud Accompanies Them

The President, Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Doud were in the first car, a large black limousine. A chauffeur and a Secret Service agent accompanied them. In a second car, an open convertible Cadillac, were six other Secret Service Agents. In the third car were White House correspondents who met the Eisenhowers at the Water Works Road gate. Photographers, still and movie, went directly to the cemetery from the Hotel Gettysburg. They were awaiting the President's party at the rear of the rostrum.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower, greeted by surprised crowds along the route as the small conveyer traveled at a leisurely 35, 30-35 mile speed, walked up to the rostrum and occupied seats in the front row. Mrs. Doud remained in the car. She invariably remains in the background when accompanying her daughter and her distinguished son-in-law.

The President acknowledged the applause and cheers of the large crowd in front of the rostrum and smiled and waved several times before he and Mrs. Eisenhower took their seats in the front row with Mamie sitting between the President and Memorial Day Committee Chairman Chester S. Shriver Jr.

Played 21 Holes Of Golf

Memorial Day morning the President played 21 holes of golf, in a foursome. After playing the first eighteen beginning at 9:10 a.m., the President decided he would like to play another round of nine holes but cut short his round after the third hole.

A large crowd was at the Taneytown Rd. entrance to the cemetery when the President arrived and it burst into cheers when they saw him.

State police and members of the local unit of the National Guard assisted Secret Service agents in restraining the crowd. It surged forward several times but was held in check.

Addressed By Quigley

Mrs. Eisenhower beamed happily and waved to the crowd as she stepped from her car as did the President.

"Mamie" wore black shoes, gray stockings, a smart gray summer dress with a "white off-the-face" hat. The President wore a dark blue suit and tie, white shirt, black ascot and black socks.

When Congressman James M. Quigley introduced Harold E. Stassen, the Memorial Day speaker, he addressed the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The second and only other reference to the presence of the President was made by Mr. Stassen who, first addressing them at the outset of his brief address, said that their presence added to the occasion which will "never be forgotten in Gettysburg."

Returns This Morning

In his closing paragraph Mr. Stassen deviated from his prepared text said "therefore, with courage and with sober hope, under the inspiring leadership of the now President of the United States, let us take up our great unfinished work." A moment later he concluded his talk.

After the official greetings at the close of the program the Eisenhowers entered their car and returned to the farm. ## Winebrenner

The animal, a three-gaited saddle bred horse owned and trained by Mr. Winebrenner for several years, had to be destroyed later in the day when it was determined that his back had been broken and he had suffered a head injury and possibly a skull fracture. The horse was taken by trailer to the Winebrenner farm after the accident. Dr. Martin decided there the horse could not recover.

Suffered Concussion
Friends said the horse was worth "at least $1,000" but was highly prized by Mr. Winebrenner who frequently used him in horse shows. One of them quoted Mr. Winebrenner as valuing the horse at $2,000.

LeVan said the front fender of the truck was so close to Winebrenner's horse that it may have grazed the animal's legs. It was the protruding stake body of the truck that struck the animal.

Mr. Winebrenner remained a patient at the hospital today where his condition was described as "satisfactory" but he will remain there for another day or two. His injuries include cerebral concussion, a laceration of the forehead and the back of his scalp.

The truck that struck him was headed for Spring Grove and was owned by the father of the driver, Roy J. Rosenberry, same address.

Aide Arthur Warman, who is Gettysburg's assistant postmaster and a member of the Sons of Union Veterans, said he did not learn of the Winebrenner mishap until 2:03 p.m. and with the help of Sgt. Raymond Strohm and the only other aide who was on duty, John L. Kaufman, got the parade moving to the cemetery. Other aides were occupied in helping Winebrenner, caring for his horse and handling horses of other aides who rode the ambulance and truck to the hospital and farm, respectively.

"MY OLD TEACHERS"

I often think about the days . . . when I was back in school . . . learning to express myself . . . with knowledge as my tool . . . I muse upon the teachers who . . . were at my beck and call . . . the ones who did their level best . . . to keep me on the ball . . . but then I didn't realize . . . how fine they really were . . . for I, like many other kids . . . with them did not concur . . . now that the years have come and gone . . . I prize their memory . . . clinging ever to the thoughts . . . of what they did for me . . . because of them I go forth . . . with faith and fervent hope . . . to climb the rugged hills of life . . . with which I have to cope . . . may God bless my old teachers . . . strict, but eager to forgive . . . they were like second parents . . . for they taught me how to live.

PENNSY WANTS MORE FEDERAL RIVERS' FUNDS

WASHINGTON (P)—The state of Pennsylvania called on the federal government for a "more liberal share of Pennsylvania's tax contributions" in financing harbors and rivers projects in the Keystone state.

Francis A. Pitkin, director of the Bureau of Community Development of the Pennsylvania Department of Commerce, told the 42nd annual meeting of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress yesterday that:

"Those interested in the water resources problems of Pennsylvania feel that Pennsylvania has long been 'shortchanged' in the distribution of federal funds."

Pitkin, a national director of the congress, acted as spokesman for the Pennsylvania delegation appointed by Gov. Leader.

Present Fund Low

He said a proposed federal expenditure of $3,501,000 during fiscal 1956 for harbors and rivers projects in Pennsylvania "is disproportionately low when viewed in terms of Pennsylvania's tax contribution. . . ." He did not outline the "contributions."

Pitkin especially urged the deepening of the Delaware River channel to 40 feet between Philadelphia and Trenton, N.J., with the federal government assuming the entire cost. President Eisenhower has said he favors local contributions to partially finance the job.

He also reviewed these other projects: Presque Isle peninsula in Lake Erie; Lehigh River-Bear Creek Reservoir flood control; Allegheny River Reservoir flood control; West Branch Susquehanna river flood control and the Turtle Creek and French Creek flood control plans.

Others in the Pennsylvania delegation included John P. Robin, secretary of commerce, and Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters.

The YMCA has separate living accommodations for women, as well as men, and also some housing for married couples.

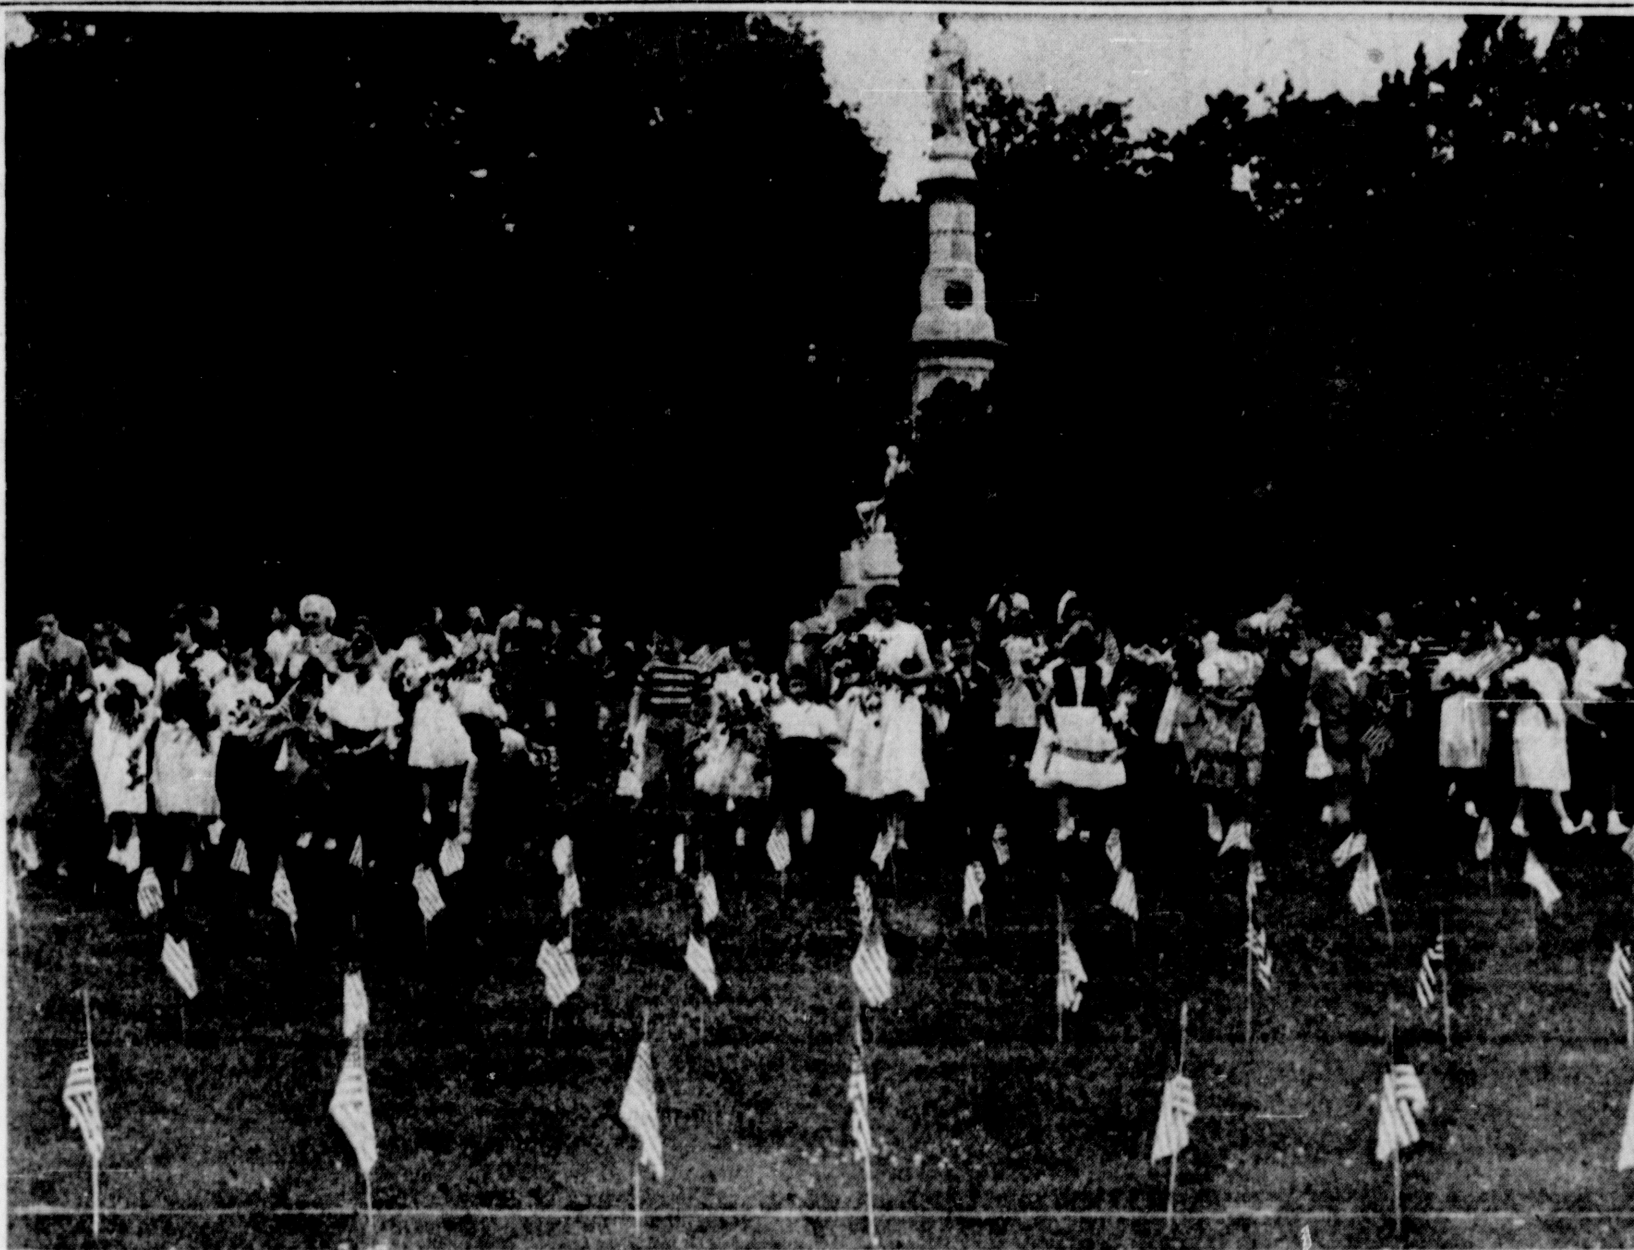

A woman employee of the YMCA heard a noise at the rear of the building about 3 a.m. and called a building detective to investigate. He found Miss Seaman lying on the ground, moaning. Her clothing, cuts on the body in addition to a head been torn and she had multiple deep laceration.

Miss Seaman was treated at the hospital for cuts and shock, police said her condition made it impractical to question her immediately as to what had happened.

FAVORS MAKING NEW LAKES OUT OF CLOSED PITS

HARRISBURG (P)—Gov. Leader today favored a program of turning the state's abandoned strip coal mines into lakes as a three-pronged solution for one of Pennsylvania's natural resource problems.

The governor, in a weekend statement, called on cabinet aides and other state officials to look into the possibilities of setting up an intensive program of conversion of the abandoned workings.

Though the idea is not new, Leader said, he declared that so far the program has "proceeded without direction."

The three effects of the plan the governor outlined would:

1. Eliminate the eyesore of abandoned workings.

2. Hold out the possibility of commercial fishing enterprises on lakes formed and establishment of fishing equipment manufacturing industries.

3. Provide sorely needed water reservoirs to raise the water table.

The governor noted, however, that a number of problems are connected with filling the abandoned pits.

List Problems

Some of the problems advanced by the governor's advisors include: growth of fish plants; pits too deep to support bottom plant life; water seepage from abandoned workings and lack of an "exhaustive study" into all phases of the planned program.

Leader said he has sought the recommendations of these state officials to help work out details of the program: Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and wa-

NEED $100,000 TO RELOCATE CAMPS

HARRISBURG (P)—The Forests and Waters Department estimates it will cost the state about $100,000 to relocate 205 hunting camps located in the North Central Pennsylvania land to be sold and leased for a jet engine plant.

The estimate was made by Maurice K. Goddard, department secretary, over the weekend. He said the department will make every effort possible to relocate the camps before the beginning of the fall hunting season.

Under the enabling legislation for the project to be undertaken by Curtiss-Wright Aeronautical Corp. The state must offer camp owners similar leases for similar ground.

In addition the nearly $200,000 the state will receive for the sale of more than 8,000 acres, mostly in Cameron County, is specifically earmarked to the department for such action and to acquire new forest land.

Most of the land to be taken by the project is state forestland.

John P. Robin, secretary of commerce; Joseph T. Kennedy, secretary of mines, and Charles A. French, executive director of the State Fish Commission.

The idea has already been worked out in Ohio, Leader noted, with much success in converting strip mines.

The governor said state projects could be financed from funds collected in license fees and a rebate from the federal government on the excise tax collected in this state from sale of fishing equipment.

The number of visitors to the United Nations buildings in New York City is increasing rapidly with the number approaching 6,000 on peak days.

IKE RETURNS TO WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower returned to the White House this morning after a relaxing holiday interlude at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa.

The President made the 80-mile automobile trip in 1 hour and 55 minutes, with part of the trip through rain. His party reached the White House just before 9 a.m. EDT.

The first scheduled business as he returned to his office was a 10:30 a.m. news conference.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, arranged to drive down this afternoon.

The President left Washington Friday for a long weekend at his country home with a view of mountains to the west and the famed Civil War battlefield to the east. There was time for a couple of rounds of golf, a tour of backroads by car and church services Sunday.

The President's only other public appearance was at Memorial Day services yesterday at Gettysburg National Cemetery—and he didn't make a speech.

He and several thousand others listened to one by Harold E. Stassen, his special assistant for disarmament.

Ceylonese Officers Go On Hunger Strike

COLOMBO, Ceylon (P)—More than 250 Ceylonese members of the Royal Navy police force at the Trincomalee British naval base stopped eating today to protest dismissal of officers of their new trade union.

A union spokesman said the admiralty had insisted that H. L. Lusane, president, and A. P. Christian, secretary of the Naval Police Minor Staff Assn., give up their union posts. When they refused, they were fired.

The unionized policemen reported for work and attended to normal duties, but declared they would take no food.

Austin du Pont, Newtown Square, the senior welsh pony and reserve junior welsh awards and the Farnly Farm, White Post, Va., the reserve senior welsh championship and the junior championship.

WIFE ALERTED FOR FLIGHT TO MEET POW MATE

WITH HONG KONG

PHILADELPHIA (P)—The wife of Lt. Col. Edwin L. Heller was alerted today by the Air Force to be ready to fly to Honolulu tonight or tomorrow for a reunion with the flier, just released from a Communist Chinese prison camp.

Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbot telephoned Mrs. Heller at her home in suburban Wynnewood this morning to advise her of the flight plans. He said he would advise her as soon as possible of the starting time.

Mrs. Heller said she did not plan to take the children, Edwin Jr., 7, and Linda 6. The trip, she said "would be too much for them and too much for me."

Her mother had expressed earlier the family's delight at news that Col. Heller had reached freedom.

Keeps Long Vigil

Mrs. Alexander Rae, who maintained a night-long vigil by the telephone awaiting a call from Heller, said even the notification yesterday that Heller was among four U. S. airmen being freed by the Reds left some doubts and worry.

Mrs. Rae, mother of Heller's wife, Judith, said she would not awaken her daughter until dawn to tell her the good news.

"We're waiting a telephone call from him and until then I don't want to disturb her. The strain of the news yesterday, after all that waiting, has left her tired. Besides, she has to rest for the trip to Honolulu."

Secretary of the Air Force Talbot announced in Washington last night that the nearest relatives of the four airmen would be flown to Honolulu for a "reunion."

Mrs. Rae said she was also expecting a call notifying her of plans for the flight, expected today.

THREE YOUTHS INJURED

All were treated at the Carlisle Hospital, Miss Weogard for fractures of both wrists, Miss Kelter for bruise of the arms and legs, and Stoner for forehead laceration.

FARMERS FROM INDIA MOVE TO 4 NEW HOMES

Four young Indian farmers this week became guests in new homes in Adams County, having completed their stay with their first set of county farmers on Sunday.

A big "family picnic" was held at Sheffer's Park Sunday afternoon for the young men from India and the families with whom they are residing in the county during their summer's stay here. Sixty-five turned out for the event.

For the families of Lloyd Keefe, York Springs R. D.; Lyndale Brandon, Clarence Waybright and John Schwartz, all of Gettysburg R.D., with whom the four International Farm Youth Exchange members had spent the month of May, there were tearful farewells at the picnic. The four left the scene with the families with whom they will reside until June 26 when they will go to State College for 4-H Week before returning to reside with yet a third set of Adams County farmers for the month of July.

New Hosts

Dhanajirao Jiwano Jadhav is spending the coming month with the family of John Shar-k, Hanover R. D., after having been with the Schwartz family last month. C. M. Rajan said farewell to the Waybright family and will spend June with Maurice Fuss at Emmitsburg. Rai Kinkor Choudhury, who spent May with the Brandons is spending June with Mr. and Mrs. William Rombin, of Fairfield, Maufli Singh transferred from the Keefe family to the family of Roy Tate, York Springs R. D.

There were promises to visit back and forth during the coming month and recollections of a number of amusing incidents including a report by the Brandons on the meal prepared for them by Mr. Choudhury May 22—they said the Indian meal was delicious.

Monday the four took the opportunity to witness a Memorial Day service here by attending the National Cemetery exercises.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

High School Commencement: The Gettysburg High School commencement, which is always a very interesting and attractive event, took place in Bruta Chapel Thursday evening and was one of the most successful ever held. Every seat in the Chapel was occupied and a number were unable to gain admittance to the exercises.

The class of 1905 is composed of eleven young ladies and five young men, each of whom delivered an address on subjects given below. It is the youngest class ever graduated, the average age being 16 years.

Every member of the class acquitted him or herself and the large assemblage was delighted with their manner of delivery and the well prepared addresses, which shows that a most excellent work is being accomplished by the able corps of instructors in the public schools of Gettysburg. Special credit is due the Principal, Prof. Book, and his able assistant, Miss Cope, who labored hard to make the commencement the success that it was.

The youthful graduates were the center of attraction. They were a handsome lot of pupils, handsomely attired and occupied seats on the stage. As each one performed his or her last task of public school work they were roundly applauded.

The amusing part of the program was the bestowing of jokes upon each one of the class by Miss Beulah Stallsmith and the presentation of gifts by Miss Naomi Rice. Both young ladies performed their parts to perfection.

When the graduates had finished speaking, Prof. M. Coover, the newly elected member of the Seminary Faculty, delivered a very able and appropriate address to the graduates, giving them some timely and good advice, which, if followed, will materially aid the young graduates in their future career.

The next in order was the presenting of diplomas by Rev. Dr. T. R. Billheimer, President of the Board of Education, who performed the task in his usual able manner. The stage of the Chapel was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The class motto, "Impossible is Un-American" in gilt letters adorned the rear of the stage.

Will Be Married June 8th: Cards have been issued for the marriage of Miss Alice Serpenta Hartlaub, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hartlaub, of near Gettysburg, to John Edgar Keefer, Thursday afternoon, June 8th, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. John B. Shellman, High St., Gettysburg.

Peculiar Species Of Snake: Howard J. Hartzell, youngest son of J. T. Hartzell, Cumberland township, came across and captured a perfectly green snake last Wednesday. The reptile is the only one of the kind known to have been captured in this section and just to what species it belongs is not known.

Hotel Sold: Yesterday (May 30) W. C. Sheely, Esq., purchased from J. L. Butt, Esq., the Biglerville Hotel for M. P. Johnson, of Harrisburg.

Offers Free Water: W. S. Dutera has offered to deed one-third of an acre of his mountain land, on which there is a strong and never-failing spring of water, to the Borough of Gettysburg for one cent per year. The spring, it is said, will furnish 10,000 barrels of water every twelve hours, which would be amply sufficient to supply the town if piped here.

Entertained Fraternity: Rev. and Mrs. George N. Lauffer, New Oxford, entertained in a delightful manner the members of Penn's Delta Chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity of Gettysburg college one evening recently.

At The Seminary: During the past spring considerable improvements have been made about the Seminary. The lawn east of Dr. Kuhlman's has been graded and beautified. Dr. Shingmaster's hand-

Today's Talk

WHY FIRST EDITIONS?

For fully a third of my life I have been a rather enthusiastic collector of first editions. I can recall when such an idea seemed foolish and silly. But we get over so many ideas that take hold on us when we get to the meat, or heart, of them.

And so I began to see the light that had brought such joy to so many. I loved books. I was a reader ever since I can remember. I read every book in my father's library that interested me and after my chores after school I could be found in the town's small library. This continued until I was out of college. Then I began to build a library of my own as soon as I began to earn even the small salary that I did. A book store always smelled good to me.

But I was well along when I first began the collecting of first editions. I read somewhere a statement by the eminent writer Hilaire Belloc that after he had read a great book in its first edition, all other editions were spoiled for him! I don't go so far as that, but a first edition is a precious treasure to me because of many things. First, it represents the dream, the struggle, the disappointments, and often the despair of the writer before that day of joy when someone gave him recognition.

On one of my visits to the Yale University library I asked to see the first book printed in the colonies, the "Bay Psalm Book" by name. It was bought and presented to Yale for something like $150,000. As I carefully handled it I could understand why it should be so precious. I believe there have been but one or two others preserved. It was published in New England in 1640.

I am glad to see the books of authors that have stood the test of time, treasured and preserved in their first editions in our great institutions. So much about a writer can be learned by studying all he has created, and especially his first material.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Doctors" Protected, 1955, George Matthew Adams Service

They'll promptly start to teach.

Both brilliant and the dumb.
Regardless of the way they play,
Instructors they become.

And on the practice tee.
They'll give advice that you'll regret,
And give it to you free.

They're found in numbers everywhere.
Your faults they plainly view,
And they will tell you then and there
Just how and what to do.

DEMOCRATS ARE SILENT AS 1956 ELECTION NEARS

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats are mousy quiet for a political party only 17 months away from the 1956 presidential election. If they have found one stirring issue to use against the Republicans next year, they haven't disclosed it.

Yet at this same time in 1961 the Republicans were clouting the Democrats with two issues which remained major through the next 17 months up to election day in 1960.

There is no war now. The Democrats can't accuse the Republicans of not trying to get Reds out of government. Long ago President Eisenhower predicted his Republicans would work so hard on this problem it would not be an issue in 1956. He seems to have been right.

Popularity Is High
If Eisenhower runs again, the Democrats' chances of losing look as good as in 1952. His popularity remains astonishingly high after almost 28 months in the White House.

The Democrats instead of trying to manufacture issues day by day, have given him extraordinary cooperation, particularly in foreign affairs.

They have backed Eisenhower from time to time: on lowering taxes, boosting postal workers' pay, on restoring inflexible price supports, on roadbuilding.

The Democrats could have ripped into the administration for its confusing handling of the anti-polio vaccine. Most didn't. Criticism on that delicate subject might have boomeranged.

'Saved' Eisenhower
The one thing they have harped on, in one way or another, is that they have saved Eisenhower from his own Republicans. These factors, more than any others, are probably responsible for the Democrats' strange quietness so late in the political season.

1. Eisenhower's personal popularity. They know that if they find something to hit him with, it had better be big, real and earnest. Petty attacks on him will look petty and may have a reverse effect.

2. The two parties' programs are not basically far apart anyway. And, since this is a time of great prosperity, the Democrats will have a time pointing up any great differences unless they can find issues of deep and stirring interest. Those issues have not appeared.

Lack Leader
3. The Democrats, except for their party label, lack a central rallying point. Adlai Stevenson, regarded by some as the party chief, can hardly lay full claim to the title. He has said too little to provide leadership or direction.

EXPECT FINAL PASSAGE OF 3 HIGHWAY BILLS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Three highway bills completing legislation on a huge North-Central Pennsylvania industrial expansion project are due for speedy final passage when the General Assembly returns to work late today.

The Senate-approved bills, adding and subtracting small portions of road to the state highway system, are companion measures to the proposal authorizing sale and lease of 84 square miles of state land to the Curtiss-Wright Aeronautical Corp.

The main bill, passed finally last week, is on Gov. Leader's desk. He is expected to hold up the signing ceremony until the companion measures reach him.

Final enactment of the four bills will make possible immediate signing of an actual contract between state and aviation firm, possibly late this week.

Plan Testing Plant
Curtiss-Wright intends to construct a jet engine testing plant on the tract located in Cameron, Elk and Clearfield counties near Clearfield. The governor estimates it will eventually create 6,000 to 7,000 jobs.

Other important legislation due for final Assembly approval when the House returns to open the sixth month of work, would authorize the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to construct new additions connecting with the partially completed West Virginia Superhighway and a Sharon-Stroudsburg leg through North-Central Pennsylvania. Both bills have been approved by the Senate.

The Senate does not return to work from its Memorial Day holiday until tomorrow. Both houses are expected to work through Thursday.

32 New Laws
In five months of toll 32 new laws have been created by the 1955 General Assembly. Gov. Leader has 17 bills approved by both houses now waiting his attention.

Over the weekend Rep. Charles C. Smith, House Republican leader, cleared the way for final approval of Gov. Leader's first reorganization plan under the new reorganization law. Smith said House Republicans would not oppose a plan to remove the State Planning Board from the Commerce Department and establish it as an independent agency.

The Senate last week, with Republicans joining in, approved the plan.

The two chambers, controlled by opposite parties, are due to get together this week on another controversial matter.

Continue Gas Refusal
The House, beating down Republican amendments, has voted to continue the present 50 per cent refund to farmers on state gasoline taxes. The Republican-controlled Senate amended the bill to make the refund 100 per cent. But the House refused to agree and the matter will be put before a conference committee of both chambers this week.

Meanwhile, Gov. Leader was reported considering a plan to remove more than 1,000 top state jobs from political control.

The plan would bring key technical and professional personnel, including highway engineers, bank examiners and accountants, under civil service. It is expected to be into the rooms which housed the American Store, on the corner of the same building.

Florida's Last Vet Gets Diploma At 107

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Florida's last surviving Confederate war veteran, William A. Lund, had a crisp new high school diploma to hang on his wall today.

The 107-year-old veteran, and honorary member of the Crestview High School senior class which was graduated last night, marched up with his 58 classmates—including two of his great-nieces—to receive the diploma.

"I'm going to have it framed, hang it on the wall and I might start teaching school," he said.

DEBBIE IS MAD AT COLUMNIST

HONOLULU (AP)—Film actress Debbie Reynolds says there is no romance with Eddie Fisher is ended. She blamed Hollywood columnist Sheila Graham for what she termed "this rumor."

"She must have to make news," said the actress, who arrived today after a tour of military bases in the Far East.

"It was awfully unkind. I am very hurt. Eddie and I are very much in love," she said in a telephone interview.

"It's tough enough to live a normal life. I'm so upset. It isn't true. I don't know why Sheila did it."

Asked if she and Fisher had set a date for the wedding, she replied: "We don't have a date planned. We had figured on June 17, but Eddie has a show that will run into July, and when I get back I will start shooting a new picture. But that (the wedding date) is no problem."

Another angry denial came from Fisher himself in New York.

"Fortunately," said Mrs. R. F. Reynolds, "Eddie knows our family and didn't put any stock in the reports. He loves Debbie—he just told me so—and she loves him."

The plan was formulated by Dr. James C. Charlesworth, the governor's secretary of administration. He is reported convinced that the state will never retain top professional employees without civil service protection.

Suspect Has Twelve Fingers, Twelve Toes

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police fingerprint experts were baffled when they started to fingerprint a suspect in a theft case.

Officer Mark Higgs placed 54-year-old Oran Telford's hands on the fingerprint card, which contains five slots—and discovered there was a finger left over. Higgs did a double take, looked further and found the suspect had six fingers on each hand.

Said Telford: "That's nothing. I've got six toes on each foot."

He took off his shoes to prove it.

COUNTIANS IN YORK COUNTY CAR CRASHES

Several Adams Countians were involved in automobile accidents in York County over the Memorial Day weekend, according to police reports.

Two women were injured in a two-car collision at 6:30 p.m. Sunday on the East Berlin Road at the Thomasville-Admiral Road intersection.

State police and Dora Mae Myers, 72, Hampton, suffering from a possible fractured skull and brain concussion, was treated by Dr. Leon Roos, East Berlin, who ordered her removal to Hanover Hospital. Delma Bowersox, 46, Hanover, suffered a sprained neck and bruised right cheek bone, but was not immediately treated they added.

An automobile operated by Donald Lee Bowersox, 48, Hanover, failed to halt for a stop sign at the intersection and collided with the car of Harry A. Myers, 69, Hampton, according to state police. Total damage was estimated at $650.

Two Trucks Damaged
Two trucks were damaged to the amount of $700 in a collision at noon Saturday on Pennsylvania Route 194, two miles south of Franklintown.

State police said Paul G. Sealover, 44, Dillsburg R. 2, proceeding southwardly on the highway in his truck, passed a car on the crest of a hill and as he attempted to cut back in line of traffic his vehicle started to skid.

The front of the Sealover vehicle collided with the rear of the truck being driven in the opposite direction by Elmer W. Ziegler, 31, Shermansdale R. 1, they added.

Crash In York
Paul A. Kavanagh Jr., 22, New Oxford R. 2, blamed his unfamiliarity with power steering for the cause of a minor collision with a parked car early Monday morning that resulted in a total of $170 damage, York police reported.

Kavanagh said he lost control of his 1955-model car in York. It collided with a parked car owned by Leslie Wisotzky Jr., York, at about 4:33 a.m.

HOOVER GROUP SCOLDS HOBBY FOR NOT PUSHING RESEARCH WORK

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover commission, altering its familiar economy theme, today urged more federal spending, bigger staffs and better pay in research programs, both military and civilian.

The commission in effect scolded the Secretary of Welfare, Hobby and the Budget Bureau, an arm of the White House, for not seeking funds to carry out 723 approved research projects at the National Institutes of Health in the coming year.

And the 12-member commission headed by former President Hoover offered proposals for military reorganization which it said might increase the effectiveness of weapons research by 25 per cent in five years.

Research Demands
Even this, it said, "may be too slow" to maintain our leadership in weaponry. The commission report continued:

"Pioneering in intercontinental ballistic missiles, the maturing technology of shorter range missiles, the needs for greater effectiveness in continental defense, the opportunities for major improvements in all military electronics, for example, combine in pressing the Department of Defense with an increasing volume of research and development opportunities and demands."

"It would be false and dangerous economy to hold the research and development appropriations at a level too low to permit a volume of effort essential to effective programs in areas of opportunity for new and improved weaponry."

As for the backlog of 723 research projects approved for work at the National Institutes of Health the commission voiced concern over this "apparent failure of the executive branch" to apprise Congress of the $7,400,000 needed.

Urges Stronger Staffs
The omission "may indicate a tendency to de-emphasize basic and medical research," the report said, whereas actually such research deserves "greater federal support."

Pointing out such "dramatic results" as the development of the Salk polio vaccine and progress in the fields of cancer, mental dis-

Dedicate Plaque To Four Chaplains

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Members of Temple Emmanuel dedicated a plaque yesterday to the four heroic chaplains of three faiths who perished when their hands clasped together when the troopship Dorchester sank during World War II.

The plaque memorializes the heroic sacrifice of Rabbi Alexander D. Goode of York, Pa.; the Rev. John P. Washington, Catholic priest from Arlington, N.J.; the Rev. Clark V. Poling, Baptist minister of Shenectady, N.Y., and the Rev. George C. Fox, Methodist minister of Cambridge, Vt.

Second Term Answer Hinges On Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ives (R-NY) said today that if Republicans in Congress want President Eisenhower to run again next year they had better give more support to his legislative program.

Ives said he thinks the progress that program makes in Congress may have much to do with Eisenhower's decision on whether to seek a second term.

"If he doesn't get Republican support in Congress, that fact alone might have quite an influence on his decision," Ives said in an interview.

"If the Republicans in Congress want him to run, they had better get back of his program."

FIRE ON JAP RANG

FUJI-YOSHIDA, Japan (AP)—The U.S. Army today resumed practice firing on the old Japanese army artillery range near revered Mt. Fuji. The shooting will last three days.

There were no objections from villagers, who had vigorously protested earlier firings. The United States is using the range with permission of the Japanese government.

The Army had compromised with the villagers by cutting down on the number of firing days.

ease and other fields, the commission told Congress:

"We must make sure of general support to this field which daily demonstrates such potential benefits for mankind."

Most of the 50-page report was devoted to recommended reorganization within the military establishment to eliminate duplicating efforts by the Army, Navy and Air Force, and to strengthen the military research and development staffs both in quality and numbers.

RUSSIANS TOUR YUGOSLAVIA IN YANK AUTOS

By EDDY GILMORE
POSTOJNA, Yugoslavia (AP)—The leaders of Russia—Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan—began a two-day tour of northern Yugoslavia today.

They rose early on the Adriatic island of Brioni, traveled by the yacht Podgora to the mainland and then got into a fleet of American automobiles.

Schoolchildren, housewives and workers lined the streets of the towns of Raa, Labin, Lovran and Opuzla as they rolled past.

Along the road, the Russians got a graphic reminder of the aid the United States gave Tito after the Kremlin booted him out of the tanks and long-barreled American highway on summer maneuvers.

Tito Not On Tour

After visiting the big underground grottoes at Postojna, the Russians go on to Ljubljana and Zagreb, before returning to Belgrade.

Tito did not accompany the Russians but will meet them Thursday in Belgrade.

Barba, Yugoslavia's leading Communist paper, said today that the principal task remaining in the Soviet-Yugoslav negotiations is the completion of a joint document setting out the results of the talks.

Work on this already has started and it will be published in Belgrade late this week.

Barba said some progress clearly had been achieved in the talks, which will be concluded Thursday or Friday.

"The talks have been profitable for Yugoslav-Soviet interstate relations and for the efforts to reduce international tension," the paper declared. It added that all "conflicting questions" had been tackled during the two-day visit to Brioni and it was believed a solution of all outstanding problems had been reached.

"Policy Of Coexistence"
Barba said the joint document to be released after the return of the Russian leaders to Belgrade will contain a review of the present international situation with suggestions for improving it, the agreed foundations for future Yugoslav-Soviet relations and the outline of "essential elements of a policy of coexistence."

A joint communique issued last night said the negotiations were continuing "in an atmosphere of mutual understanding" but gave no details.

Authoritative Yugoslav sources already had said that Tito had re-

SELF-RELIANCE AWARDS CURBS "DELINQUENCY"

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody complains about juvenile delinquency in America. But who is doing anything to reward earnest teen-age kids who do face up to their responsibilities?

Industrialist W. W. Sebald of Middletown, Ohio, fell to brooding over this a year ago.

"I got tired of hearing about nothing but delinquent kids," he said. "We are living in flush times, and I think children are too used to taking money from their parents—too few are developing their own initiative and earning their own way."

"But it isn't enough merely to complain. We need to put a focus of attention on the kids who go out and do things for themselves." Sebald, president of the Armco Steel Co., found his own answer in a series of "self-reliance awards" for high school seniors in Middletown and Ashland, Ky. Helped by members of the Junior Chambers of Commerce in the two towns, he has handed out $3,000 from his own pocket in prize money to some 20 students "for doing the most they can with the best they have."

Prizes Up To $400
The prizes range from $50 to $400, and they have uncovered heartening evidence of hundreds of teen-age boys and girls working hard against all kinds of handicaps to win achievement.

"We were rather surprised at the amount of self-reliance we did find," admitted Sebald, who is now ready to dig deeper into his pocket to help the idea of the contests spread to other towns.

Examples: One youngster was working 97 hours a week, and still attending school. . . . An honor student had borrowed money to buy a farm for his father. . . . A girl was paying all her expenses in school by holding three outside jobs at the same time. . . . A boy, also working his way through school, still managed to contribute 10 per cent of his earnings to the church he attended.

The $400 prize winner in Middletown this year, Willie Napoleon Clements, a Negro youth, worked 52 hours a week at three jobs. He delivered newspapers, worked in a wholesale produce house and clerked in a grocery store. Yet he also played on the high school football and track teams, took part in school plays, was active in his church, and was elected to the National Honor Society.

Sebald himself is a self-made man. Starting as a $30 a month office boy with the steel company 49 years ago, he worked up through the ranks to his present post, which last year paid him $245,000.

During his own high school career he drove a laundry wagon during the day, played in a dance band at night.

"It wasn't a matter of necessity," he recalled. "My family was well off. But they never had to buy my clothes after I was 13 years old. I didn't want them too. I wanted to make my own way."

Sebald would like to see other individuals and organizations do more to encourage teen-agers today who show a willingness to accept responsibility.

"Self-reliance made this country," he said. "It is a basic thing in America, and we have to preserve it."

The National Education Assn. says the United States has a deficit of 340,000 classrooms in its public schools.

Seven Killed In Crash Of Plane

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP) — A twin-engine Air Force C47, its engines apparently stalled over the rugged Sacramento Mountains, crashed and burned yesterday in La Luz Canyon, killing the seven men aboard.

The plane had taken off from Holloman Air Force Base 15 minutes earlier after refueling and picking up freight on the last leg of its journey home to Clovis Air Force Base, N.M. It was on a return trip from Burbank, Calif. The crash scene was 15 to 20 miles north of here.

Air Force spokesmen at Holloman said the plane sent no distress signals.

CPL. MECKLEY

A South Korean marine battalion that had been cut off by the enemy. "The company was ambushed by a large force of about 900 North Korean guerrillas and in the first burst of gunfire several men were wounded before the squad could take cover."

"Corporal Meckley left his position of cover, exposing himself to the enemy fire, and went to the aid of one of the wounded men. Although he aided the man to cover, he was wounded but refused first aid and immediately returned to help other wounded. In doing this, he received his second and third wounds."

Covered Withdrawal
"When withdrawal orders were received, Corporal Meckley was unable to walk and voluntarily remained behind to cover their withdrawal. It was then that he got his fourth and fatal wound."

"His intrepid and resolute actions enabled the entire unit to successfully withdraw from the ambushed position and made possible the safe evacuation of many wounded men. Corporal Meckley's extraordinary heroism reflects great credit upon himself and is in keeping with the highest traditions of the service."

Cpl Meckley's father is Solomon Meckley, Hanover.

The young soldier had served in World War II as a member of the U.S. Navy. He enlisted at York March 4, 1945, after leaving Eichelberger Senior High School.

QUIGLEY URGES

ans' hospitals to visit and to cheer and to pay tribute to those to whom we owe so much and remember so seldom."

Congressman Quigley said he had advanced the idea five years ago at a speech at Lykens and again a year ago at Middletown and that last year the Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion as a result went on record as favoring such a day.

"Unfortunately the matter was lost in the confusion of last year's National Convention and the American Legion, as such, has not had an opportunity to pass upon the merits of the proposal. I sincerely hope they will consider and will approve the idea at this year's convention."

"Just One More Holiday"
"I express this hope fully conscious that in many respects this country can't stand another holiday. Our holiday accident rate for example is indeed a crime and a disgrace. I make the suggestion for this special day for the disabled even though I share the feeling that we in America already have too many special days and special weeks for a vast variety of purposes, good, bad and indifferent."

"Nevertheless I urge the establishment of just this one more day, because I believe by such a day we can in a small way fulfill our duty to those less fortunate and at the same time focus public attention on the great work of rehabilitation."

"By congressional action we now observe the dead of all wars on Memorial Day and the veterans of all wars on November 11. In the light of this action I seriously suggest that from now on, November 11, Veterans Day, would be the ideal day to give special honor and special remembrance to those veterans who have sacrificed in an especially hard way for the defense of our country. If such a day is to become a reality all it really needs is a few people who believe it is a dream worth dreaming and willingness to do something about it."

About 500 were gathered for the rostrum exercises at the SUV Armory where Congressman Quigley spoke. Approximately 2,000 turned out to watch the parade through New Oxford to the two cemeteries where ritualistic services were held. George D. Sheely was the presiding officer at the services.

"In behalf of myself and the AMA Board of Trustees I have assured President Eisenhower that the nation's physicians will cooperate in limiting polio vaccination to children from 5 through 9 until the vaccine is available in larger supply."

Dr. Martin said that children in this age group who do not receive the vaccine during the current program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for first and second-graders will be vaccinated after its completion.

The AMA, Dr. Martin added, "is asking all physicians to administer vaccine only to children

ACCIDENTS TAKE 17 LIVES IN PA. OVER WEEKEND; TEN IN TRAFFIC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Accidents in Pennsylvania over the long Memorial Day weekend took 17 lives, somewhat less than expected but still one of the year's high tolls.

Ten died as the result of motor drowned and two died in other accidents.

An Associated Press survey for the comparable period (6 p.m. Friday until midnight Monday) two weeks ago showed 30 killed in accidents, a toll higher than that of last Christmas weekend. Of those deaths, 24 resulted from highway accidents.

Cite Two Factors

The lesser highway toll of this past weekend resulted apparently from two factors: extensive National Safety Council pleas for safe and some bad weather that kept people off the roads.

Charles Millian, 13, of Philadelphia, was drowned in the Schuylkill River yesterday while swimming with two other boys.

Seven-year-old Donna Jean Shank was killed in Natrona yesterday when, police said, she ran in front of an auto.

Lawrence Millford, 42, of Eminton, was killed Sunday night in a two-car collision near Franklin. Four other persons were injured in the mishap.

Man Electrocuted

Paul Broutin, 17, of Nazareth, drowned at Saylor's Lake yesterday (Monday) in the Poconos. He was trying to swim from the shore to a raft 75 feet in the lake.

In Philadelphia, Jackie Bracey, 15, drowned while swimming in the Schuylkill River yesterday.

At Midland, Pa., Anthony Nola, a 60-year-old millworker, was electrocuted, police said, when he picked up a high tension wire which had been blown down by high winds. Twenty-nine-year-old Albert Parknow, of Pittsburgh, died of a skull fracture in St. Francis General Hospital Sunday. He received the injury Saturday in a fall from a wall.

Traffic Victims

John Yanak, 46, a resident of the Elk County Home, died in St. Mary's Hospital Sunday of injuries suffered when he was struck by an auto Friday night. Police said Yanak was hit by a car driven by 18-year-old Ronnie Rollick of St. Mary's.

Granville Ellingsworth, 42, Philadelphia, died in Graduate Hospital Sunday of a crushed chest and internal injuries suffered when his car rammed into a three-foot high concrete and steel pillar. Police said Ellingsworth, a father of six children, apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

A 25-year-old Wilkes-Barre man was killed instantly Sunday morning when the car in which he was riding crashed into a utility pole in Wilkes-Barre. The victim was identified as Edward Moyles Jr., of 154 Allmont St., Wilkes-Barre.

Turnpike Fatality

Morris Flood, 25, Pittsburgh, was killed Sunday when the car he was driving crashed into a bridge on route 88 at Finleyville.

Forty-eight-year-old Adrian Tuning, of Hummelstown, was struck and killed by a car early Sunday while crossing U. S. 22 about two miles north of Harrisburg.

Robert N. Tobias, 19, a marine from Windber, was killed early Saturday in a one-car accident on the Pennsylvania Turnpike after hitting a ride apparently to spend the holiday at home.

Boy, 6, Drowns

State police of the turnpike detail said Tobias was thrown from an auto which ran off the side of the superhighway, struck a guard rail, bounced back across the road, smashed into the medial barrier and then overturned.

James Shellenberger, 19, Delaware Water Gap, died late Friday night on route 611, near Portland when he fell under the wheels of a moving coal truck.

Thomas White, 18, drowned in a pond near his home at Clarion Friday.

William Roenack, 24, was killed when his automobile upset and struck a truck, five miles west of Uniontown in Fayette County Friday.

Six-year-old David Schultz of Williamsburg, R. D., drowned Sunday in the Frankstown branch of the Juniata River when he jumped from a row boat caught in a current.

BRITAIN WILL LIVEN UP ITS TV PROGRAMS

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Great Britain's new commercial television service may not be as lively as the American version but it won't be dull, says Harry Towers, who will boss much of the programming.

In fact, the short, dynamic young British TV-radio magnate says the new service, to start this fall, will include some American programs.

"I think the American viewer would find it very good," Towers said while here on one of his frequent ocean-hopping business trips.

He has just closed a deal with Evangelist Billy Graham for 26 filmed programs. He's dickered for I Love Lucy, the Roy Rogers show and others, and hopes to have frequent American guest stars such as Bob Hope and Johnny Ray.

"We may put Liberace on," he adds.

Sunday Variety Show

Meanwhile, London programs will include a big Sunday evening variety hour from the London Palladium with such stars as Gracie Fields.

Also on the Sunday evening schedule will be an anthology show featuring dramatic stars such as Sir Ralph Richardson. The Sunday afternoon lineup will include a 90-minute program along the lines of Omnibus.

A major Saturday evening attraction will be a one-hour dramatic show telecast from high quality film recording.

Closing out the Saturday schedule will be a 45-minute program presided over by Jack Jackson, popular British entertainment personality.

"It will be a sort of Steve Allen

PHILANTHROPIST AT MOUNT JOY DIES ON MAY 30

MOUNT JOY, Pa. (AP)—Clarence Schock, 89, widely known philanthropist who has been turning all the profits from his oil distributing firm to Lancaster city and county schools since 1940, died Monday at his home.

In the 15 years, more than one third of a million dollars, including 126 scholarships intended to encourage the training of future teachers, has been paid to the schools out of the profits of the Sico Co.

Schock founded the company in 1898. It operates a petroleum dock on the Delaware River at Wilmington, Del. It serves a wide area of central Pennsylvania through distributing headquarters in Lancaster, Lebanon, Ephrata and Carlisle.

Schock also recently deeded a 1,000 acre tract of forest land in the vicinity of Governor Dick Mountain near Lebanon to the Mount Joy School District for perpetual use as a public park.

He is survived by his wife, the former Evetta Tupper Jeffers, daughter of the president of the York Collegiate Institute.

Pollster Can Predict Community Program

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Dr. Claude Bosworth, of Michigan State College, says he has devised a questionnaire that tells what a citizen thinks of his community — and what he'll buy for it.

"We can help community leaders determine if an industrial development, new school, sewer bond issue or recreation program will be approved by the people," he says.

The method has been reliable in surveys run in several Michigan cities, Bosworth says.

show," Towers explained.

There also will be sports telecasts, kiddie shows, quizzes, newsreels and other features of types familiar to American viewers.

One noticeable difference will be the way the commercials are handled. They cannot be tied to the program in any way and the advertiser has nothing to say about the content of the program. The performer also may not deliver the commercial that precedes or follows the program.

Nearest thing to FLYING SORCERY

(Man! what Variable Pitch Propellers do for Dynaflo Drive!)

It's The Hardtop with Four Doors!

Here's the new hit in hardtops that's taking the country by storm — Buick's pioneering and pace-setting 4-Door Riviera. The "convertible" look, with no center post — but with separate doors for rear-seat passengers. Shown here in the low-price SPECIAL model — also available in the high-powered CENTURY Series. Both now in volume production to insure prompt deliveries.

IN A land vehicle, there's never been anything like the magic a pilot gets with his variable pitch propellers.

He can angle the blades of his propellers for performance as he heads his plane down a runway — to get quick take-off and climb.

He can switch the angle of those propellers for economy aloft — to get more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

As we said — there's never been anything like that in a land vehicle. But there is now.

It's in a Buick with Variable Pitch Dynaflo — and you can take the word of thousands of excited owners of new Buicks that it's the closest thing to wheeled flight...

Because you have twenty propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside your Dynaflo unit...

Because you can switch the pitch of those propeller blades from high-economy angle that gives you top gas mileage in cruising — to high-performance angle that gives you action plus...

And because, when you call for that action by pressing the gas pedal way down — you get it split-second quick and silky smooth — an instantaneous power response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of acceleration when needed.

It's a solid, soaring, pulse-quickenning thrill — unlike anything you ever felt before — and robustly bolstered by walloping new horsepower raised to record might.

It's something you definitely ought to try — just to know what's really new in automobiles — and to see for yourself why Buick sales are zooming to an all-time best-seller high.

Drop in today or tomorrow and we'll gladly arrange matters — show you, too, the prices that are keeping Buick in the tight circle of America's top sellers.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional on extra cost on other Series

People, working together, can do just about anything they set out to do...

This was the guiding idea behind our first beginnings back in 1926, when a group of Ohio farmers borrowed $10,000 and started their own small insurance company. It was run by only three people from a second-floor office.

Today Farm Bureau consists of three companies—auto, life and fire—with over 2,000,000 policyholders. And the people who make up Farm Bureau have created or acquired many associated organizations.

These organizations may help you save money in financing homes, in buying cars, they offer you the services of an investment fund, and are working to serve you in many other ways.

As a Farm Bureau policyholder-participant, you may share the rewards of an investment program that puts your money to work for you. And through the unique Advisory Committees of Policyholders, you may even help shape the Companies' plans and activities.

That's what we mean by policyholder-participant — that's what we mean by people, working together — that's what we mean by Farm Bureau.

4 Americans

They had been held prisoner in China. American authorities had said they believed the men were held most of the time in Mukden, Manchuria.

Change Clothes
The airmen were dressed in Communist blue trousers and faded blue, collarless shirts when they crossed the border into Hong Kong territory at the Lowu Bridge.

They changed to new white shirts and light gray slacks at the Fan Ling Jockey Club, en route from the border to the airport.

The clothes had been brought for them by an Air Force greeting party headed by Lt. Col. Simpson, the U.S. air attaché in Hong Kong, who told them: "I welcome you in the name of the U.S. government and the American people. We have been waiting a long time for this."

"So have we," one of the men blurted out.

Hilariously Happy
Simpson had bought the clothes in Hong Kong earlier on the basis of the men's height and weight before they were taken prisoner. All the items fitted extremely well, suggesting that the four were in about the same physical condition as before.

Heller's new shoes, however, were too small. Simpson gave him his own.

The air attaché said all four men were extremely excited and hilariously happy.

Fischer saw a bed with a mattress at the jockey club, jumped on it and "bounced up and down like a baby boy," Simpson said. Parks flopped on another bed and luxuriated stretched and yawned.

Cameron ran for the showers and shouted: "They've got both hot and cold water."

Asked by Simpson what he would like, Heller said, "Lead me to steak." The air attaché said he had no steaks at that time but there were 15 choice ones on the plane for the men's dinner.

Red China announced its decision to release the airmen last night in a Peiping radio broadcast which said they had been convicted by a military court May 24 of "intruding" into Manchuria.

The court ordered them deported, the broadcast said. The broadcast was Peiping's first announcement of any official action against the fliers.

"Being Expelled"
The men said their captors had told them they were being expelled.

After the Peiping announcement, the U.S. State Department expressed hope that the Chinese decision to free the four indicated an early release for 11 other American fliers and 41 civilians detained by the Reds.

The other 11 are survivors of a B29 crew whose plane crashed Jan. 12, 1953. The Communists announced last December they had been convicted of espionage and sentenced to prison terms.

The United States strongly denied the spy charge. The U.N. Assembly subsequently condemned the Chinese action and called for the release of all U.N. personnel held since the Korean War.

Five Months' Effect
The release of the four airmen followed five months of intensive diplomatic activity by U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and diplomats of Britain, Sweden and India. Hammarskjöld and Indian foreign policy expert V. K. Krishna Menon both made trips to Peiping to see Chinese Premier Chou En-lai.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles yesterday sent messages to Hammarskjöld and Indian Prime Minister Nehru expressing his appreciation for their efforts on behalf of the fliers.

U.N. officials said a letter from Chou to Hammarskjöld had raised hopes of early release for the remaining 11 fliers. Reports from Washington said Menon also had advised the State Department that the freeing of the four airmen was only the first step the Peiping

JUNE GRADUATE CASHING IN ON BUSINESS BOOM

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The June graduate is cashing in on the business boom.

Average starting pay has gone up a little since the midyear graduate came out in January, college placement offices report. And corporations have revised their hiring plans upward in line with the general optimism over the business outlook.

Available jobs are now running about 10 per cent ahead of a year ago, most colleges report.

Dark Side, Too
Young engineers will get an average starting pay of $400 a month, and nontechnical grads will start at $300 to $350 month, according to a survey of 120 schools by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co., of Minneapolis. This is a gain of from $10 to $35 over last year.

But a dark side of the picture is pointed out in another survey of 80 top corporations and 80 colleges in all parts of the country by Executive Job Counselors, a New York firm. Corporations report that on an average 30 per cent of each year's crop of June graduates changes jobs within the first year.

Costs $1,000 A Year
This is estimated to cost industry 36 million dollars in wasted recruiting and training expense. Recruiting a student for industry costs a corporation from $500 to $2,600, companies report.

Corporations estimate they spend an average of $1,000 a man in training the new employee in his first year. Many say they get little of productive worth out of a man in his first year, so that his first year's pay is a loss if he quits.

Most colleges report a sharp rise this year in the number of companies doing campus recruiting. Many placement officials report employers actively interested in "draft bait" this year. The larger companies are hiring youths who soon must leave for military service, or are signing them up for jobs on a "when you return" basis.

regime plans to ease Far East tensions and improve relations with the United States.

All Jet Pilots
The four released men are all jet pilots. They were captured individually after being shot down in combat. The Red Chinese said all were taken inside Manchuria. U.S. military authorities said they had been downed in North Korea while on missions near the border.

Red China has maintained that her soldiers fighting in Korea were volunteers and that Manchuria, therefore, was a neutral country, immune to attack.

U.N. airmen fighting in the Korean War were under orders not to cross the Red Chinese frontier. But officers said many air battles were so close to the border that a falling plane or parachute could have drifted across the Yalu River into Manchuria.

EDEN ACTS TO GET EMERGENCY STRIKE POWER

By JAMES F. KING
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden moved swiftly today toward emergency powers to safeguard the nation's prosperity boom against the nationwide railway strike and a crippling tieup on the docks.

He sent three top Cabinet ministers flying to Scotland to see Queen Elizabeth II and lay the groundwork for a royal proclamation giving the government the widespread powers.

The declaration of a state of emergency by the Queen would give Eden a freer hand to deal with the crisis, including the power to requisition stocks of essential materials and to use troops and service facilities to move goods and carry workers to essential jobs.

To Call Council
A special meeting of the council was expected to be held at Balmoral to advise the Queen to issue the royal proclamation under the Emergency Powers Act of 1920.

Eden waited at his official country home, Chequers, while he sent his aides to represent him at the special meeting of the Privy Council.

The first industrial plant to feel the effects of the strike was the South Durham Steel Co., which laid off 350 night shift workers with the announcement that one mill would not reopen because of lack of coal.

Steel Firms To Close
Two of Britain's biggest steel-producing firms—the United Steel Companies and Colvilles—announced they will be forced to close by the weekend unless the strike is settled.

Britain's booming economy will be hurt badly if the strike continues for even a few days.

London was threatened with the worst traffic jam of its history. Hundreds of thousands of suburbanites who normally ride to work in trains converged on the city about or by automobile.

Trucks Add To Congestion
Long lines of trucks carrying goods ordinarily moved by rail added to the congestion. Special constables were called in to help deal with the expected 700,000 commercial vehicles and private cars—four times the normal daily flow.

All central London was declared a no parking zone. Hyde Park and Regents Park, on the western outskirts of the business district, were thrown open for parking to handle the overflow.

Thousands Stranded
Meanwhile, thousands of Whitehall holidaymakers were stranded overnight at bus and rail-road stations awaiting transportation home from seaside resorts.

The strike—the first rail walkout since the general strike of 1926—was called Saturday midnight by the 70,000-member Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. The union is demanding a raise of 8 shillings ($1.12) in the present base weekly pay of 9 pounds 15 shillings ($27.30) to restore traditional wage differentials.

IDENTIFY VICTIM

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—A Pottsville, Pa. air force officer has been identified as one of the 14 airmen killed last week in the crash of a B36 near San Angelo, Tex.

Walker Air Force Base officials yesterday identified him as Capt. Charles Z. Zalonka, 37.

between the locomotive crews and less skilled workers.

The government, which operates the nationalized lines, has refused to grant the increase for fear of touching off a new wage-cost spiral in the railroad industry.

Wounds Wife And Takes Own Life

READING, Pa. (AP)—A 53-year-old man fatally wounded his wife following an argument in their home in nearby Stony Creek Mills last night, then shot himself through the right temple. He died instantly.

The victims were identified as Lloyd E. Kline and his wife, Carrie, about 45. Mrs. Kline died in St. Joseph's Hospital, about 35 minutes after the shooting.

Lower Alsace Twp. police Chief Charles A. Plueger said he heard the shots and ran from his nearby home to the Kline residence. He broke open the front door and found the bodies.

Friends were quoted as saying Kline had been despondent for weeks.

Letter to the Editor

Talladega, Ala.
May 18, 1955

Dear Sir:

I think the people of Gettysburg are very fortunate to have such a great man as Dwight Eisenhower to live there in the future.

In my opinion President Eisenhower is the greatest of all presidents. We have had other great men for president such as Abraham Lincoln and others but I still compare Ike out in front.

Ike's high character and nice personality have united the country, and given new faith in politicians.

I hope President Eisenhower will run for another term because the country needs his outstanding leadership.

I would like to see more young people live the clean outstanding life that Ike has lived and is still living. Of course we know everyone can't be president but they can live a clean life.

J. C. JOINER,
Talladega, Ala.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a firm and secure fit holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.
